Confidentiality Agreement – Dig Site Location

In receiving directions to the Canadian Fossil Discovery Centre's fossil dig site I agree to keep the specific location of the dig site confidential. Also, the organization I represent agrees to keep this information confidential.

I acknowledge that a fossil dig site is a sensitive area containing a valuable provincial resource. As such, every effort will be taken to ensure the security of this site.

The fossil dig site is located on private land and fossil collecting activities are governed by provincial legislation. It is prohibited by law to trespass and/or attend to these fossils without a permit.

An acceptable description on the location of the dig site is:

“The dig site is located upon the Manitoba escarpment that extends north and south of Morden.”

Or

“This particular dig site is located outside of Morden among the 30 other dig sites operated by the CFDC.
